Vision for Oakland's Army Base

featuring

Phil Tagami

California Capital Group
AMB Property Corp.

The man responsible for the restoration of Fox Oakland and the historic Rotunda Building has a vision for Oakland's Army Base.

Phil Tagami is leading one of two teams vying to be the master developer that transforms the entire former Army base site, a huge parcel at Highways 80 and 880. The decision of who will be chosen to redevelop this key piece of land, that has been years in the making, could be decided by Oakland's city council this summer.

Mr. Tagami will discuss his proposal before the city council and why the development of the former Army base site will play a key role in Oakland's economic growth.
